Non-demographic differences and team engagement

What is Makheni's approach?

She explains non-demographic differences in an entertaining engaging manner. Her approach is based on Neethling Brain Instruments, an international profiling method that helps individuals and teams to understand the role of non-demographic differences in teamwork, recruitment & selection as well as career choice

What qualifies Makheni to speak on this topic?

She has a thorough understanding of the method because she is a master practitioner and she trains other practitioners. She applies the method in Face2Face and virtual workshops, team coaching and one-on-one coaching.

She has experience in building a team because she was in management positions at different levels. She has 23 years' experience in the field of behavioural transformation presenting keynote addresses and workshops on topics including team engagement
